But the Annamite batred of the Christian religion soon again broke forth, and once more led to French intervention, the outcome of which was the Treaty of 1874, by which some of the ports of Tonquin were opened to foreign trade, and a French Protectorate established over Annam. What has happened since is matter of recent history. During the late war persecution of Christians was carried on by the Annamites wherever it could be safely, and now the old flame seems to have broken out with a faustical fury greater than ever. Encouraged, probably, by the bold attack on General DE Councy at Hue, the Annamite officials would appear to have sanctioned a general massacre of the native Christians and the murder of the missionaries. Possibly the account received is somewhat exaggerated-at all events we hope so-but there is little doubt that a great slaughter has been perpetrated, and that the European Missionaries were among the first to be sacrificed. If the account is correct and uncoloured, it will become necessary for France to adopt one of two courses. ANTI-CHRISTIAN PERSECUTION IN TONQUIN.

A letter from Mgr. Puginier, the Vicar-Apostolio of Western Tonquin, in the Missions Catholiques, gives the painful news that an anti-Christian outbreak is again ravaging the provinces of Son-thy, Hung-hoa, and Tuyonquang. It is as follows:--Hanol, 13th April, 1885.

The Western Tonquin mission, which has been so ornelly tried for three years past, is now again in throws of a fresh crisis. The northern district, consisting of the provinces of Son-tay, Hung-hor. I Tuyen-quang, contain six parishes with Christian population of 12,000 souls. Five of these parishes are at this moment being ravaged by the Black Flags and strong bands of rebels, who have made common cause with them. Six priests have had to seek refuge at Son-tay to escape certain death. One of them, parish priest of Hung-hoa, was seized on April 7th six kilometres to the south of that town. He was also flooing from the Chinese with more than 300 women and children of his parish, when he fell into the hands of a band which lay in wait for them on the banks of the Black River. The women and children, however, were not harmed the brigands, seeing them in rags, let them go, and contented themselves with tying up the cure and his assistant. I know nothing of what they have done with this priest, save that they took him to a village occupied by the Black Flags. I tried to have him ransomed, but in spite of the arge sum we offered we have been unable to offect his release.

About thirty missions have been destroyed by the Chinese; one of these, comprising a thousand souls, has had twenty people murdered and about a hundred carried off as prisoners; the others have suffered less. The Christians are flying. most of them to the mountains, and some to the China Traders' Insurance Company's Shuresheathen villages in which they have acquaint- $64 per share, er div. ances. If, at interdearly paid for the seeming quiet which persuaded the Christians to return to their homes. At divers times the Black Flags have made a sudkilled a large number of people, and carried as I am informed of the destruction of four other province so-called, and situate six kilometres above Hung-hon, the neephytes attempted to de- China Sugar Refining Company (Debentures)fend themselves, but had to yield to superior wounded and are scattered about in woods. The trict is becoming more and more critical. Pray God in his goodness for our mission!

War is everywhere disastrous, but in Europe the evil is temperary and confined; in Tonquin Perak Tin Mining and Smelting Company it is a scourge for the whole country and the whole world, because it brings in its train brigandage, arson, murders, and wholesale massacros. And yet, although the whole population suffers, it is the Christians who are undoubtedly especially tried. The pagans end by coming to an understanding with the enemy, ally themselves with them, and become brigands in their turn. But other neophytes have no other resource than to fly, and have to sacrifice all they possess to save their life. Besides, it is by no means uncommon to see a small Christian hamlet, enseenced amid numberless heathen ones, plundered and burnt while the latter are untouched. The Chinese and the bands submidised by the Mandarins are perfectly competent to make the distinction, and they are not ignorant that the Catholics are friends to France. Oh; how painful is the present state of affairs for our neophytes and for us missionaries. Our life is passed in cares, alarms, and the most scute anmisties. Not a week but brings some fresh misfortunes; not a day without bad news; now it is a mission persecuted, a whole parish devastated; often a whole district, composed of several parishes, rayaged by Chinese bands.—Catholic

A DIPLOMATIC SCANDAL.

Most of our readers will recollect the arrival in Chins of Senhor Eduardo Callado to negotiate the Treaty between Brazil and China in 1881: Senhor Callado was also for two years Brazilian Minister to Peking. Since that time he has been Minister Plenipotentiary for Brazil to Italy. His diplomatic career has just, however, we regret to learn, been cut short by detection in the act of cheating at play in a Club Building the result being his prompt recall to Brazil. The Mercury translates the following account of the affair from the Neue Freie Presse of the 25th June :- "With regard to the affair, which caused the sudden recall of the Brazilian Minister from Rome, a Rome correspondent sends as the subjoined particulars .- Some eight weeks ago the Banker of a Baccarat party in a local club (the Circollo della Caccia) called the attention of the Brazilian Minister to the fact that he instead of paying various I.O.U.s, which he had given during the play, had put these back in his pocket. The Minister begged pardon and paid the amount, and the affair appeared to have been settled. A few days afterwards, however, four junior members of the same Club brought it to the notice of the committee that the diplomat, for some time past, had carried on a game similar to the one lately detected. The Committee, upon this announcement, kept a sharp lookout on Senhor Callado's playing, with a result that the denunciations of the four junior members became confirmed. Prince Colonna, who was present at the time, at once persuaded the Minister to leave the Club, intimating, at the same time, that, under some protext of other, he should ask his Government to be relieved from his post. Senhor Callado left the Club, but, instead of taking the advice of Prince Colonna, he had intercourse with his colleagues as frequently as ever, as if anything had never happened. The King of Italy, as will be remembered, lately invited all the members of the Sanitary Conferance (of which Senhor Callado was a member), and thus an invitation was also sent to the Minister. Count Gianotti, the master of ceremonies, who is one of the committee of the Club in question, and who was acquainted with Senhor Callado's affair, consequently reported the scandal in which the Minister Pienipotentiary was implicated to the King, with the result that the Profiles Consequent with the result that the Profiles Consequent with the result that the Result of the Re the Brazilian Government was asked, by tele graph, to recall Sentor Callado. And it proceeds to ask:- "Are the dicate the existence of a typhoon to the west of Irish leaders more fierce than the Magyars, who Hongkong. accepted Francis Joseph as successor to St. Stephen, or the Canadians who rose against us in actual revolt? We see across the Atlantic the complete healing of a fend which was a bitter controversy for a generation, and then deluged a continent in blood. Men who were the Ministers of Jefferson Davis now sit in the White House, and DOOKBINDING IN ALL 725 BRANCHES the passions of the war are forgotten. Yet the American are of our own race, and include a contingent of Irishmen. Why should two peoples here, who for nearly a century have had hardly Bookbinding in every Style by Competent any conflict worthy the name, be irreconcilable when the politics of Hungary, of Canada, and the United States present us with lessons and Commerical Binding of every Size and Descripexamples of magnificent reconciliations following sanguinary revolts? At all events, the first word must come from us. We must make the QUALITY OF MATERIALS AND WORKMANSHIP effort, leaving the consequences to destiny. If it fail we shall at all events, have cleared our consciences and done our best to retrieve the mischiavous omissions of the past."

INGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNT! AND MANDABIN PRONUNCIATION. An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at the IMPERIAL QUARTO.

Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and inscience generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To the illustrate the vast scope of the work Second Horse 1,000 8 Prizes of 250
